- Research: Information on data, literature, research projects, important institutions and conferences
- Study planning: Consultation and services for planning and conducting a survey
- Data collection: Consultation and services during the data collection phase
- Data analysis: Support, consultation and data for secondary analysis and reference, analyzing tools
- Archiving and registering: Longterm permanent archiving and registration of data and publications

In addition, GESIS offers user conferences and research methods training events for all these phases.
The Journal

Historical Social Research (HSR) is an international journal for the application of formal methods in history. It has been published since 1976.

The application of formal methods to history covers: quantitative and qualitative social research, historical sociology and social scientific history, cliometrical research, (historical) demography, and digital humanities.

The HSR is user-, methods-, and data-oriented. The journal focuses on inter- and transdisciplinary research. An international editorial board is in charge of the content, and thanks to close cooperations with network partners and user organizations within the field of historical social research, the journal participates intensively in current research discussions.

Four HSR issues in addition to one supplement are published every year. Among others, more than 150 libraries worldwide are subscribers of the HSR.

"(...) international top journal with high visibility and influence among researchers in the various research domains in different countries, regularly cited all over the world" (ERIH / European Science Foundation)

HSR Topics

The topics of the Special Issues mirror the transdisciplinary approach of the journal. For example, there are issues and articles about:

- Spatial Analysis
- Elite Research
- Biographical Research
- Discourse Analysis
- Environmental History
- Political Economy
- Sociology of Markets
- Security Studies
- and more

HSR Coverage

In recognition of the high quality and relevance to the scientific community, the HSR has been selected for coverage / archiving in several databases such as:

- SocINDEX with Full Text
- SSOAR
- Scopus
- Web of Science
- STOR
LIBRARY RECOMMENDATION FORM

Dear Librarian/Library Acquisition Committee,

I recommend that our library subscribes to the following journal:

Historical Social Research (HSR)

I would like to recommend this journal for the following reasons:

- REFERENCE: I frequently refer to this journal for current research articles that are related to my own work.
- STUDENT READING: I will review the new issues regularly to add to my students' reading lists.
- PUBLICATION OUTLET: My current research requires a publication outlet in this area. I need this journal to keep up to date with its editorial direction and interests.
- PREDICTED BENEFIT FOR LIBRARY: My evaluation of this journal's content and direction is very. Including this journal in our library will fulfill department, faculty, and student needs.
- OWN AFFILIATION & DISSEMINATION: I regularly receive my own personal copy of the journal/ I am a member of the journal's editor board and will be recommending articles on a regular basis to students and colleagues. The library's assistance in providing this material is most appreciated.
- OTHER: ____________________________________________
  ____________________________________________

Please include this journal in your next review meeting with my recommendation to gain access to this journal for our institution. Thank you.
