Looking for a job includes any approach, no matter how small, that you have taken in order to find a job (in the country or abroad) and includes, for example:

- if you have searched job advertisements in newspapers, magazines or on recruitment platforms (for example: eJobs, BestJobs, posturi.Gov, Eures etc.), on the websites of institutions or companies or posted directly to the employer ;
- if you have placed or responded to such announcements, if you have applied for an available position (online - on recruitment sites, directly to the employer, etc.);
- if you have placed or updated a CV (online - on recruitment platforms, directly to the employer, etc.) ;
- if you have contacted employers directly (applying for a job directly or through recruitment platforms) ;

ANEXA C — INSTRUCȚIUNI

- [1] NRG1: 1. Do the people who live at this address form a single household (ie do they have a common budget for food and housing expenses)?
The common budget may cover (or not) other expenses related to daily life, such as: clothing and hygiene products, the purchase of furniture, household equipment and tools, expenses for commuting and transportation, medical costs and insurance, education and training expenses, leisure and sports activities, holiday expenses. Some household members may also have a personal budget, separate from the common one. This does not mean that they are not part of the household - as long as they participate in the making and / or spending of the common budget. It doesn't matter if the members of the household are related or not. Room-mates who share only their housing expenses (rent, maintenance, electricity, etc.) but do not have a common budget for other daily necessities (eg food) are considered to be part of separate households. A person who lives alone or occupies a separate room in a dwelling (eg tenant) but who declares that he or she manages the house by himself or herself is considered to be a single-person household.
- [2] MARGOSP: 2. %CMARGOSP%
Also consider: - possible people who, although they usually live elsewhere or do not have a stable residence, are in this household for a longer period (eg tenants) - family members who live temporarily at another address in the country or abroad (regardless of the length of stay) - possible family members who, although they consider that this is their usual residence, alternate, regularly, between this residence and another (people who go to work or pupils / students who return periodically to the family household, children with divorced parents who live alternately to each of them, persons who have two or more places where they live alternately, etc.).
- [3] NUME: 3. %CNUME%
Each person's first name is written on a separate line! DO NOT register the last name. If two or more people have the same first name (eg father and son, both having the first name "George"), add a sequential number after it (eg 1, 2, 3 ...)
- [4] CAPGOSP: 4. Which of these people do you consider to be the head of the household?
The head of the household is the person declared and considered as such by the other members of the household. The head of the household must have the usual residence at this address and be aged 15 years or more. It is recommended that the person considered as head of the household be part of the main family (if there are unrelated people or several families in the household) and be of the middle generation (in the case of households with several generations).
- [5] W1: 1. In the week from Monday %CZIS% to Sunday %CZFS% inclusive did you work at least one hour for salary or other incomes  (such as: salary-related incomes, pay or any other form of remuneration; profit, copyright or any incomes from own activities)?
Products obtained in the agricultural household, intended for own consumption, are not considered "income". In general, persons who in the reference week carried out exclusively such activities will not declare themselves as "working for salary or other incomes". Don't insist! Ask the question and record the answer spontaneously. It is important for these persons to be able to check whether most of the agricultural production is intended for sale or not.
- [6] W2: 2. In the week from Monday %CZIS% to Sunday %CZFS% inclusive, did you work at least one hour, without being paid, for a business owned by a family member/ household?
In general, persons who in the reference week carried out exclusively unpaid activities in the agricultural household run by another family member - in which only goods for self-consumption are produced, will not declare themselves as "working for a business". Don't insist! Ask the question and record the answer spontaneously. It is important for these persons to be able to check whether most of the agricultural production is intended for sale or not.
- [7] LAYOFF: 8a. Did you absent due to temporary interruption or reduction of the activity of the unit in which you work, for economic, technological, structural or similar reasons?
It also includes the suspension/ reduction of the activity by laws. The purpose of the question is to distinguish between cases where the reasons are related to the person of the worker (whether voluntary or involuntary) and the absence decided by the employer - due to the difficulties of economic unit or suspension by law of certain activities.
- [8] PG1: 9. In the week from Monday %CZIS% to Sunday %CZFS% did you work at least one hour in agricultural production activities - in your own household?
The question mainly concerns people who carry out agricultural activities in their own household, as a self-employed or unpaid family worker. Although these activities are usually carried out within the own household (on the land owned by the household or using the animals owned) are also included activities carried out outside it, on the land or with the animals of a third person (in the case of lease, shepherds, fishing, hunting, mushroom picking, etc.). Agricultural production includes: crop cultivation (including fruit growing), animal husbandry, hunting, forestry and logging, fishing and aquaculture, ancillary activities to agriculture, forestry, hunting and fishing.
- [9] TEMPAGCY: 28. Who is your employment contract with?
The temporary employment agency is a firm who concludes temporary employment contracts with temporary employees, in order to make them available to other companies (he hires them), in order to work for the fixed period, under the supervision and management of the beneficiary company. The employee's employment contract is concluded with the temporary employment agency (who also pays his salary), and not directly with the company for which the activity is actually performed.
- [10] CUT_2: 1. Does your employment contract or the agreement you have with the employer provide the number of hours you have to work?
In case of persons who carry out their activity on the basis of other employment modalities (employment rapport, document of appointment etc.), the existence of such a provision in law, internal regulation or other document regulating the respective activity will be taken into account - if they exist.
- [11] WISHMORE: 1. Would you like to work for more hours than you usually do now?
The number of hours you currently work refers to the number of usually working hours per week - cumulatively - at all jobs - if you have more. The question refers both to persons who would wish to work more hours at the current job and those who would wish an additional job or even a new job - with more working hours than now.
- [12] HWWISH: 2. What is the total number of hours you would wish to work per week? Take also into account the potential change of income (increasing or decreasing) determined by change of the number of working hours.
The question refers to the number of hours the respondent would wish to work for increasing his/her incomes (if he/she wants to work more - for a higher income) or the number of hours he/she would wish to work acknowledging the risk of decreasing his/her incomes (if he/she wishes to work less).
- [13] LOOKOJ: 3. In the previous 4 weeks, ending on Sunday -%CZFS%, did you look for another job?
The question refers both to persons who sought to change their job and to those who sought a job in addition to the current one. The person may have looked for a new (or additional) job at another employer or even another job at the current employer. In the case of self-employed persons - they could have looked for a job as employee or opportunities to reshape their business.

- [14] S1: 1. In the last 4 weeks ending on Sunday %CZFS%, did you do anything to find a %CALT% job?

 Including looking for a job of just a few hours or any endeavor to start a business.

In addition to the search for a "job" - in the usual sense of the word - any activities undertaken to find "some work" will be considered (ie finding a paid activity, even occasional, exceptional or short-term) or to start a business on your own.

- [15] SEEKDUR: 56b. How long have you been looking for a job?

The question refers to the duration (in months) of the last continuous period (without interruption for more than 1 month) of active job search - from the date on which the person made the first step in order to find a job until the end of the reference week. For people who have already found a job - the question refers to the duration of the last active search period for a job - from the date of the first approach until the date of finding that job.

- [16] EDUCNFE4b: 2. Has at least one of these been job-related?

"Job-related (professional)" - means that the respondent takes part in this activity in order to obtain knowledge and/or learn new skills needed for a current or future job, to increase earnings, to improve job and/or career opportunities. If the participation did not have a professional purpose, then it had a "non-job-related (personal/social reasons)" - and aimed at improving the competencies required for personal, community, domestic, social or recreational purposes.

- [17] EDUCNFE12a_prof: 4. Has at least one of these been job-related?

"Job-related (professional)" - means that the respondent takes part in this activity in order to obtain knowledge and/or learn new skills needed for a current or future job, to increase earnings, to improve job and/or career opportunities. If the participation did not have a professional purpose, then it had a "non-job-related (personal/social reasons)" - and aimed at improving the competencies required for personal, community, domestic, social or recreational purposes.
