The letter from the Federal Statistical Office informs you that your household has been selected to take part in the Swiss Labour Force Survey. This is a survey which takes place four times a year and which enables important information necessary to the economy and research to be gathered on subjects related to occupational activity and unemployment. The letter from the Federal Statistical Office also asks you to assist us in the Swiss Labour Force Survey.

May I ask you the questions now?

CONTINUE THE INTERVIEW .....(BT3)

If expressly requested, the letter can be sent again but only AFTER the interview has been carried out.

For this quarterly survey being carried out by the Swiss Federal Statistical Office it is also very important for us to obtain information from people who cannot answer directly. Could another person give us information about X

What is the SLFS and what is it for?

SLFS = Swiss Labour Force Survey
- The SLFS is carried out by the Swiss Federal Statistical Office on behalf of the Federal Council.
- The SLFS provides extremely important information about the labour situation and professional activities in general. Among other things it provides answers to the following questions:
  - How many people are there in Switzerland who are employed, not employed or unemployed? How many pensioners are in paid employment?
  - How many people work in each sector? How many hours do they work?
  - How much holiday are they entitled to? How many unemployed people are not registered with a job centre? What training do they have?

- The SLFS provides important information for decision-making for politicians, research and industry.
- It is only by recognising the problems of the labour market in good time that effective measures can be taken, for example unemployed people can be helped thorough further training, occupational programmes and other measures, or mothers in part-time jobs can be provided with day-care centres and other possibilities for their children to be looked after.
- Labour surveys are carried out in all European countries, using the same questions.
But why me?

- Instead of questioning the whole population, which would be far too costly, it is enough to question a number of people selected at random.

- Each year, 105,000 households are selected at random from a list containing all fixed-line telephone numbers.

Then one person per household, also chosen at random, is interviewed. That is how you were selected. We guarantee that all the information you give us will be treated confidentially and that you will remain anonymous.

- I cannot replace you with anyone else because that would falsify the results of the survey.

What about data protection?

- Without an absolute guarantee that the data we collect will be protected we cannot carry out any sort of survey. As a LINK interviewer I am also bound to protect all the data I collect. This means that no data from which individual people could be recognised will be passed on to third parties. And no names or addresses will be passed on to anyone else either. In order to ensure data protection your name and telephone number will be separated from your answers as soon as the interview is finished.

- The results of the survey will be collated anonymously, i.e. in percentages, such as 54% of women are in paid employment.

- We need your WORK ADDRESS in order to determine in which branch your company is active.

Why me again?

- It is only by putting the same questions to the people who were already interviewed that the Swiss Federal Statistical Office can gain a full picture of the changes in the professional activities and the personal situation of the population of Switzerland.

- It is only in this way that we can evaluate how many of those questioned are still working in the same job as in the previous year, or how many unemployed people have found a job after one year.

- The interview is shorter this time, because we have left out some of the questions.

The letter from the Federal Statistical Office informs you that your household has been selected to take part in the Swiss Labour Force Survey. This is a survey which takes place four times a year and which enables important information necessary to the economy and research to be gathered on subjects related to occupational activity and unemployment. The letter from the Federal Statistical Office also informs you that all selected persons are legally obliged to take part in the survey.

May I ask you the questions now?

- Continue the interview

- Problems

INT.: If expressly requested, the letter can be sent again but only AFTER the interview has been carried out.
The Swiss Labour Force Survey is a quarterly survey which provides important information about the labour market and unemployment. You can find out more about it in the letter sent out by the Swiss Federal Statistical Office. The letter from the Federal Statistical Office also asks you to assist us in the Swiss Labour Force Survey.

May I ask you the questions now?

CONTINUE THE INTERVIEW .................<BT3>
PROBLEMS ...............................<BT3>
-----------------------------------------------------------------------
INT.: If expressly requested, the letter can be sent again but only AFTER the interview has been carried out.

We know that you are not in the telephone book. But the Federal Statistical Office is obliged to take account of the whole of the population. Since February 2008, a new Federal Council ordinance allows it to use all fixed-line telephone numbers in Switzerland including those that do not appear in the telephone directory.

INT.: Only a few priority FSO surveys have access to this list of fixed-line numbers, including this survey on the labour force (SLFS). Your telephone number has been selected at random from this list. Data protection is guaranteed by the Federal Statistics Act and the Data Protection Act:

- telephone numbers are treated in confidence
- they are used for statistical purposes only, their use for commercial or administrative purposes is absolutely out of the question and liable to prosecution.

Why is there no longer an obligation to respond?

The law was changed following a parliamentary initiative by the SVP/UDC group in 2009. This amendment was passed by Parliament in December 2011 and came into force in July 2012. The introduction of the obligation to respond to the Swiss Labour Force Survey (SLFC) had raised concerns among the population, many of whom felt that their freedom had been encroached upon. In the long run, it would have been counterproductive to maintain such an obligation.

Is the SLFS less important than before?

The return to the voluntary survey does not in any way call into question the importance of this survey, which has existed for over 20 years. The Federal Council has also reiterated the centrality of this survey in Switzerland’s statistical system.

The SLFS provides indispensable indicators on employment, unemployment, working conditions, educational level, the integration of foreigners, monitoring the free movement of persons and gender equality.

Why should I bother to answer?

Your participation is important because every voice counts. You are not legally required to participate, but the FSO is counting on your cooperation.

The more people respond, the more the numbers will reflect the reality of the labour market and the variety of living conditions in Switzerland.

If a large number of people respond, the FSO will be able to provide accurate estimators.
o A CODE is also given in this FSO letter: persons who have doubts about the identity of the caller ("Is this really someone from LINK wishing to interview me for the SLFS?") can ask the interviewer to say the code in order to identify him or herself.

A telephone number is also included in the FSO letter (SLFS Hotline) where persons can ensure themselves that everything is in order.

The following questions are especially important for the survey. You may interrupt me whenever you like if something isn't clear.

So, that’s the end of the interview.

As already announced in the letter of the Federal Statistical Office we will contact you again in #bX#e months.

Because of this reason I would like to just check that we have your correct address and telephone number.

Would you like to receive:

- 1 book token (20,-)............. <1>
- 1 voucher for a cinema ticket.... <2>
- 20 1 franc postage stamps........ <3>
- it doesn’t matter which.......... <4>
- doesn’t want a present........... <5>
In order to send you your present, I would like to check that your address and telephone number are correct. You will receive your present in about 3 months, at the same time as the next letter inviting you to take part again in the SLFS.
